Parents devastated over death of 'beautiful' Sarah

BY STEPHEN PENN
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A FAMILY has been left grief-stricken after their daughter was killed in what is believed to be a murder-suicide involving her partner.

Sarah Nash, 37, originally from Dunstable, was found dead alongside her partner Lee Guntrip, 25, at a home in Highfield Road, Berkhamsted.

Police were sent to the quiet residential area after neighbours became concerned for the couple's welfare and called emergency services.

Officers from Hertfordshire Police then discovered their bodies at around 11.30am last Thursday morning (June 23).

Both were declared dead at the scene but police only confirmed the identity of the victims this week.

Sarah's parents have since spoken of their devastation at losing their daughter, who has also left behind two children.

They said: "We are absolutely devastated by the loss of our beautiful daughter and request that we are left in peace to grieve her death."

MUM-OF -TWO: Sarah Nash, 37

Flowers and tributes have appeared next to the home where the pair died.

A full post mortem examination will now be carried out in a bid to establish the exact cause of death of the pair, and investigations by police continue.

The tragedy has also been referred to the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC) as officers from Hertfordshire Police had previously been in contact with the couple. Detective Chief Inspector Jerome Kent, from the Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Hertfordshire Major Crime Unit, said: "This was a tragic, isolated incident and one which I know has caused concern within the wider community.

"Investigations are ongoing however, we are not looking for anyone else in connection with the deaths."

IPCC Commissioner Mary Cunneen added:"We are in the early stages of our investigation, which will examine how police handled incidents linked to Sarah Nash and Lee Guntrip, including whether the police correctly managed and identified safeguarding measures.

"Our thoughts remain with everyone affected by these tragic deaths."

Police officers sealed off the house as forensic science experts combed the rooms looking for clues.

A neighbour previously suggested Mr Guntrip had been found hanging in the garden, but officers have denied this and confirmed both were found in the house.

CELEBRATING INDEPENDENT BUSINESSES

IN LUTON TOWN CENTRE

Monday is July 4th, American Independence Day, a fitting time to celebrate and promote the wide range of independent businesses that call Luton town centre their home...

Luton Business Improvement District (BID) is passionate about supporting its range of independently owned businesses and ensuring the town centre excels as a place to work, place to do business and a place to shop in and visit.

Our monthly Saturday entertainment days, aptly named 'Luton Live', entice new as well as already loyal shoppers into our vibrant town centre. We organise additional street cleaning, install window vinyls to spruce up empty units and work with police to address anti-social behaviour. Our blooming and beautiful flowers baskets and displays are now dotted throughout the town centre and the BID runs promotional campaigns throughout the year to support all town centre businesses.

This week's feature focuses on independent businesses, which are located throughout Luton town centre, with many at the top end of George Street and into Market Hill, Chapel Street and Park Street.

Here's an introduction to just a few and a reminder to shop local and support your Luton independents.

LUTONBID

Editor's Letter

Less drama, more common sense

'THE most exciting day in British politics since yesterday.'

I don't know who said it first, but this was the quote doing the rounds amongst political commentators this week.

Undoubtedly it has been a week that will be written about for many years to come: the Labour party has splintered, the Tories are at each other's throats and there is a sense of chaos brewing in the capital. I suppose exciting is one way to describe it.

All the back-stabbing and double-crossing might be keeping political journalists excited, but I suspect many ordinary folk would now like to see behaviour less worthy of a box set and more worthy of the most important job in the country.

After some pretty dirty campaigning, confidence in politicians needs restoring. It would be a tragedy far greater than Brexit if a crisis of faith in politics was the result of a debate so concerned with democracy.

Step up for Kelvin after cabinet call

AFTER 19 years as an MP, Kelvin Hopkins has received a call up to the Shadow Cabinet.

However, it has come in turbulent circumstances after dozens of resignations from the shadow cabinet after Labour Party leader Jeremy Corbyn lost a vote of no confidence.

As a result, Mr Corbyn turned to Mr Hopkins to fill the slot for Shadow Secretary of Culture, Media and Sport on Tuesday.

Mr Hopkins recently campaigned to leave the European Union.

We contacted Mr Hopkins but did not receive a response in time for our deadline.

'No plans' to relocate easyJet headquarters

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LOW-COST airline has once again quashed rumours about leaving the town, after a report emerged that it was considering leaving for an EU country.

The future of the airline has been a hot topic in the last week since Britain voted to leave the European Union.

However, easyJet reiterated its commitment to the airport on Friday.

An easyJet spokesman said: "easyJet is lobbying the UK government and the EU to ensure the continuation of a fully liberal and deregulated aviation market within the UK and Europe.

"This would mean that easyJet and all European airlines can continue to operate as they do today.

"As part of easyJet's contingency planning before the referendum we had informal discussions with a number of European aviation regulators about the establishment of an AOC [air operator certificate] in an European country to enable easyJet to fly across Europe as we do today.

"easyJet has now started a formal process to acquire an AOC.

"Until the outcome of the UK/EU negotiations are clearer easyJet does not need to make any other structural or operational changes.

"We have no plans to move from Luton – our home for 20 years."

Gavin Shuker, MP for Luton South, which contains the airport, told LoS he plans to hold talks with the airline in the coming days.

Big hug for pool staff who saved Cade's life

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A BOY has said a heartfelt 'thank you' to the swimming pool staff whose quick actions helped save his life after he suffered a cardiac arrest in the water.

Cade Ewington, 11, from Caddington, was having a school swimming lesson at Lewsey Park on June 6 when he suddenly collapsed.

Staff from Active Luton, which operates the pool, dived in and administered life-saving CPR as emergency services were called to the scene.

The Caddington Village School student was transferred from Luton & Dunstable A&E to Great Ormond Street Hospital, where he was fitted with an implantable cardioverter defibrillator (ICD), which is like a pacemaker.

And on Wednesday, Cade returned to the pool just three weeks after the incident with parents Mark and Sam to thank the staff on duty.

Cade said: "Lifeguards are just amazing people.

"I just thanked them for saving my life. Everyone should know CPR because it's an incredible life-saving skill."

Cade was rescued by swimming teacher Tracy Foster, who spotted he had become unresponsive, and was assisted by lifeguard Rebecca Findlay and fellow swimming teacher Katie Robinson.

Tracy said: "All of us would be prepared to do it again. We are trained to do this and we are just doing our job."

Although the three members of staff were modest about their heroics, parents Mark and Sam praised the work they had done.

Sam said: "What do you say to someone who has saved your son's life? The staff are so calm about it, I don't think they realise what they have done for our family! Without them Cade would not be here."

Mark added: "It hasn't sunk in yet. These people have given us our son back. I love this little guy to bits and can't imagine life without him."

REUNITED: Cade visited Lewsey Pool with his parents to thank the lifesaving staff

Please return our pink flamingos!

AN online petition has been launched to bring back the flamingos in the former Arndale Centre.

The landmark was a popular meeting point in the shopping centre for years.

Last year the facility, now known as The Mall, adorned the walls of Central Square and Bute Square with graphics of flamingos to pay tribute to one of the town's most iconic former landmarks.

However one resident wants to see them returned to the centre.

Angie Hart has started a petition to Luton Borough Council to have the flamingos reinstated.

At the time of going to print, it had recieved 21 signatures. On the petition's page, she said: "I would love to see the Pink Flamingos back in Luton town centre. They were a lovely view, and a great meeting place.

"Think how it will make our town look a nice place. [sic]. People would love to come just to see them."

a warm welcome awaits you

By Sam Potter

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerves often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Ancient tree faces the chop

A 600-year-old tree faces an uncertain future after it was revealed to be diseased.

The cedar, in Houghton Hall Park, Houghton Regis could be removed from a park as a result, due to concerns over safety.

Alternately, it could just be fenced off.

The town's deputy mayor, Joanna Hilyard, said: "Of course the community is upset but we have to move forward and make a decision."

A decision on what to do with the tree will be made at a meeting of Houghton Regis Town Council on Tuesday.

Police calling for longer sentences

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE leader of the Bedfordshire Police federation has called for tougher sentencing for assaults against police officers after three cops were attacked and racially abused.

The incident occurred in Goldington Avenue, Bedford at around 8.25am when the officers were responding to a call they had received about a public order offence.

They all suffered minor injuries. Jim Mallen, who heads the county's police federation, said: "The officers were attending to a public order offence and a man started to attack them.

"I heard that there was racist language used towards them in an email and there is just no place for that.

"There is no reason to abuse and assault people who are just doing their job and trying to keep you safe.

"I think the cause is lenient sentences and we've got to deal with assaults on cops more strictly."

On the incident, a Bedfordshire Police spokeswoman said: "Three police officers and a detention officer were assaulted and verbally abused on Wednesday after police were called to reports of a public order offence.

"A 33 year-old-man from Bedford was arrested on suspicion of racially aggravated common assault.

"The man has been bailed pending further enquiries.

"The officers sustained minor injuries and are being supported by the Police Federation."

Luton teachers not taking strike action 'lightly'

EXHAUSTING workloads and cuts to school funding have forced teachers into taking strike action, says the local branch of the National Union of Teachers (NUT).

They will head to the picket line on Tuesday to protest for increased funding for schools, and to resume negotiations on teacher contracts to allow workload to be addressed.

Dave Mingay, assistant secretary of the NUT in Luton, said: "Teachers in Luton are not taking action lightly. In light of the huge funding cuts to schools, worsening terms and conditions, and unmanageable and exhausting workloads, teachers cannot be expected to go on without significant change."

Shane Putney with Mrs Overton

After a high recommendation from their friends Mr & Mrs Overton of Langford Drive, Luton chose Kingsbourne Windows to replace their old windows and doors.

Mr Overton says "the installation we saw at our friends home was superbly fitted and the cost was realistic for 'A' rated products. Now ours has been completed we would also like to recommend Kingsbourne Windows to all our family and friends".

A JURY was shown photographs of a baby allegedly killed by his mother and her new partner with a cannabis joint behind his ear.

The shocking photo was revealed at Luton Crown Court on Wednesday as Ronnie-Tayler Morrison, 21, and her boyfriend Hardeep Hunjan, 26, continued to deny murdering 13-month-old Noah Serra-Morrison at the Crawley Road flat in Luton where they all lived.

It was found on Morrison's iPhone along with a video clip showing Hunjan smoking three joints at the same time through a homemade tube.

Tiny Noah died of a massive head injury on November 20/21 last year. The prosecution say the couple were to claim little Noah had injured himself falling out of his crib, but say his injuries were so severe they were comparable to those suffered in a car crash.

The trial continues.

Baby Imran death was 'preventable'

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

THE death of a seven-month-old baby could have been prevented – according to a serious case review from the NSPCC.

The duo were later jailed for 16 years for allowing his death, but the serious case review has ruled that various agencies which were aware of the neglectful conditions at the family home failed to take an 'assertive lead on the case'.

It concluded that Cambridgeshire Community Services' response was 'hampered by inexperienced practitioners who lacked specific training'.

The review also called on Luton and Dunstable University Hospital to assess its procedure for monitoring the weight gain of infants.

An NSPCC spokesman said: "Opportunities to help him were sadly missed and information gathered over a four year period was never properly shared."

Fran Pearson is independent chairwoman of Luton Safeguarding Children Board, which will monitor responses from the agencies.

She said: "Agencies in this case have already made improvements to practice based on the findings - with a view to preventing the same failures occurring again."

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? have endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable & Stevenage areas and manager Tom Bliss agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

DOZYPARKERS

Seriously?!

WE don't know whether this driver doesn't understand how pavements work, or whether he or she just doesn't give a damn. Either way - this is a textbook case of inconsiderate parking. It was snapped by a reader this week in Overstone Road.
Have you spotted an even worse offender?

Luton on sunday

READALLOVER

LAST week's Luton on Sunday found its way into the hands of Tirell Jeffers, who is a digital marketing assistant for Active Luton.
The 21-year-old was born in Montserrat before arriving in Luton via London aged 13.
Tirell, from Leagrave, said: "There's a real community feel in Luton and there are so many residents with different stories to tell."
Read all those stories in your weekly LoS!

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: LoS reporter James Averill

LoS* reporter James Averill visited Lille just days after England and Russia fans clashed violenty on the streets. But he has a different story to tell about the tournament - one of harmony and unity among fans just enjoying the beautiful game together. . .

AS chairs flew through the air and fans laid still on the ground – the TV footage of football thugs trading punches was making me consider whether I really wanted to head over to Euro 2016.

Going to a major football tournament had always been a dream; one usually put to the side due to the financial or geographical reasons.

Now, at the age of 24 and with some disposable cash, the Euros in neighbouring France seemed like the best chance to finally tick a tournament off the bucket list.

But the sight of Russian hooligans charging England supporters in Marseille had instilled some second thoughts. When trouble too found its way to Lille, the city I would be staying in, the nerves increased.

As I packed my suitcase I did stop to consider whether to include my England shirt – something that could potentially label me as a target. I plumped for patriotism over conservatism, and it turned out to be the right call.

In six days in Lille I saw nothing but friendship and good vibes in the city. It is just as important to highlight that football far more often than not unites different nationalities rather than dividing them.

In my time in France I attended two games: the first saw me and my father (above) head along to nearby Lens to see Czech Republic vs Turkey.

There was a boisterous, but safe atmosphere in the streets of Lens – a town similar in size to Leighton Buzzard but with a 39,000 all-seater stadium the whole town can fit in.

Both Czechs and Turks were incredibly friendly, and all spoke impeccable English.

Back in Lille on Wednesday, the city was rammed with Irish fans ready to cheer their side on against Italy.

A proposed 'alcohol ban' was nowhere to be seen. In fact, one Lille bar owner told me Irish fans had sunk 4,000 pints at his pub in one day – a volume that was usually sold in two weeks.

Though everyone was in high spirits there was no trouble, just a willingness to have a great time.

Plenty of fans also approached us as we wore our Northampton Town shirts – someone has to support them! We stood out like sore thumbs in our claret shirts in a sea of green, but it was a privilege to watch the Irish make history as they beat the Italians to make it through to the knockout stages.

In six days there was not a hint of trouble or a single disagreement.

So much for the trouble I had been fearing.

THE PEOPLE HAVE SPOKEN: Were you happy with the result of the EU referendum? Email your views to editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

Threat to democracy

I SUPPORTED the Brexit campaign and displayed a large poster in my front garden. I also, rightly or wrongly, placed TWO small posters on trees near my home also one large plastic poster.

Over a seven day period these were often torn down which I soon replaced. My point is this: it would appear that in this country no-one can express different views without some form of nasty hostile action. The perpetrator of these acts would surely have acted in a far more responsible way by displaying posters with their own views, not ripping down those opposing.

Incidentally, I have removed from the trees all fixings!

Hard sell

IN response to the 'Dozy driver hits back' letter printed in last week's LoS:

Dear Dozy, prospective buyers of your car now have a good idea of the type of driver you are.

Hence the reason 'one careful lady driver' tends to attract potential buyers when one is selling a car, contrary to your belief that a free advertisement with such bad publicity will do the trick.

If you are lucky enough to sell it, perhaps you could try buying a vehicle you are able to manoeuvre into a proper parking space in future.

Here's hoping.

One careful-and-considerate-to-other-road-users-and-pedestrians lady driver

Meet our PCC

WE were delighted when Kathryn Holloway was elected to serve the people of Luton and Bedfordshire as Police and Crime Commissioner.

Please take the opportunity to come to see and hear Kathryn Holloway on Saturday, July 9, 2pm-4pm.

All are welcome to attend and refreshments will be served from 1.30pm. There is no cost to attend the meeting.

Can't lose? Don't bet

WE have been a member of the EU for so long, people don't understand the meaning of democracy.

Brexit won the majority of votes. They won. Get over it. It's what they say about gambling. If you are not prepared to lose. Don't bet. We all knew the vote could go either way. Someone had to win, someone had to lose. But stamping your feet and spiting out your dummy like Nicola Sturgeon won't get you anywhere.

One thing the EU referendum has shown me, is how weak and useless our politicians are.

Trial set for brothers charged with concealing Natalia's body

THE trial of two brothers charged with concealing the body of Natalia Doherty - who went missing in Luton more than 13 years ago - will take place in December.

Joseph Doherty, 72, and his brother Daniel, 67, appeared at Luton Crown Court on Monday but did not enter pleas.

They are charged that together with Ms Doherty's deceased ex-husband, Gerald Doherty, they knowingly hid the 50-year-old woman's body in the garden of Daniel's house in Icknield Way, Luton, and intended to pervert the course of justice.

Joseph, of Old Greenock Road, Port Glasgow, Inverclyde in Scotland, is also charged with preventing the lawful and decent burial of a dead body.

Ms Doherty's body was discovered in the garden of the house last December.

FA tight-lipped on decline in finances

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

BEDFORDSHIRE Football Association is refusing to comment on why its finances appear to be in decline.

Latest accounts posted by the FA on Companies House on June 26 show that the association's total assets, minus its liabilities, have decreased by more than £305,000 in just two years.

The accounts, which date to the end of December 31, 2015, also show that the group's capital and reserves (money reserved for long-term capital investment projects or any other anticipated expenses) has plummeted from £485,655 in 2013 to just £237,258 in 2015.

Its tangible assets, assets that have a physical form such as buildings and pitches, have also fallen by £74,222 in the same period.

A Bedfordshire FA statement read: "The Association distributes a full set of accounts to all members, as is required by its constitution.

"It held its AGM for 2015 on June 18th. All members had the opportunity to be present or send in comments.

"The accounts were passed without question."

The statement however did not address specific questions from this newspaper as to why the losses had been incurred. When asked for more detail, Bedfordshire FA said it would be making 'no further comments'.

‘Airport contract for cabs was fair’

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Airport has told hackney carriage drivers the decision to award their contract to a rival taxi firm was fair.

Drivers from Luton Hackney Carriage Association say they face losing their job after the contract to operate the taxi rank they have worked in for 40 years was awarded to London based Addison Lee.

Drivers have argued that the decision will force them to take their black cabs to the town centre, where there is not enough work.

Munir Ahmed, a member of the association, said: “What compensation will be given to drivers in causing the loss of jobs after decades working at the airport?”

But Luton Airport say the decision was a fair one.

A spokesman said: “The tender for a ground transportation provider has been a fair and open process which began in December last year.

“There are no grounds for compensation under the previous contract which ended in June.

“Drivers working with the previous service provider, Luton Hackney Carriage Association, have been given every opportunity to join the new service provider, Addison Lee – who will be expanding and improving the options currently available to passengers, such as great value fixed price fares which are guaranteed never to be higher than the Hackney rate offered today.”

Labour hold council seat in High Town election

LABOUR has managed to hold its council seat in High Town following a by-election on Thursday.

In a week of turmoil for Jeremy Corbyn's party they at least had some good news to cheer from Luton as Maahwish Mazir (pictured) was voted in to take up the remaining one of the ward's two seats on Luton Borough Council.

Councillor Mirza picked up 39.6 per cent of the votes, beating runner-up Lyn Bliss from the Green Party who recorded 21.4 per cent.

Turnout was disappointing however at just 22 per cent.

The by-election was called following the resignation of Labour's former councillor Aysegul Gurbuz, who was found to have posted anti-semitic posts on Twitter prior to her becoming a councillor.

Ms Gurbuz was suspended and then resigned in April for claiming Adolf Hitler was 'the greatest man in history'.

Care home put in special measures

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A CARE home has failed to improve its 'inadequate' rating from the Care Quality Commission (CQC) after its latest inspection.

Luke's Place, in Putteridge Park, provides accommodation and care for up to four people with learning and physical disabilities and mental health conditions.

It was first rated 'inadequate' in November 2015, but despite some small improvements under new owners it retained its 'inadequate' rating after an inspection on April 11.

The report criticised the management, effectiveness and organisation of the home, but found staff 'treated patients with kindness'.

Peter Hardman, the administrator for Luke's Place, told LoS: "Luke's Place provides traning for its staff externally.

"Staff are being trained as we speak." He went on to say the home was meeting CQC requirements at the 'time of the inspection' but denied he was disputing the validity of the report, adding: "That's not what I'm saying.

"I have no further comment on this."

The home is now in 'special measures' and will be inspected again within six months – during which the CQC say 'significant improvements' should be made.

A time for unity after UK decides

WITH the UK now in uncharted territory and our politicians trying to waive the rules the EU is attempting to enforce, it means uncertain times ahead for Luton and the whole country. This new series of features will look at the social and political impact of last Thursday's Brexit vote in the referendum. NICK SMITH reports. . .

PRESENCE: Dawood Masood

PRIORITIES: Gavin Shuker MP

THERE is an air of uncertainty around Britain at the moment following last Friday's announcement that Britain had voted to leave the European Union.

The two largest political parties are in ruin, or at least in the midst of a reshuffle, depending on your perspective.

However, one of the largest fears is that the vote has unintentionally given a 'licence' to racism and there have been a number of such attacks on people across the United Kingdom, with footage of one particularly nasty incident on a tram in Manchester going viral.

Now, local leaders and the county's police force have spoken out about the need to stand together – not fall divided.

Gavin Shuker, MP for Luton South, has urged calm, saying: "My priorities throughout this period will be threefold: to protect Luton jobs and its prosperity; to reassure Luton's residents including those who have come from other countries; and to ensure the Labour party is in a fit state to fight a general election."

Community leader Dawood Masood said: "I'm yet to hear of any incidents in Luton, but across the UK the far right feel legitimised by the vote.

"People definitely feel as if this has given racism a licence."

Luton is one of the most diverse towns in the United Kingdom in terms of nationalities but is also one of the most unified.

I feel as welcome in Bury

Park as I do in the town centre, despite some people's delusions of there being 'no go zones'.

However, there are still fears that hate crimes could take place.

Mr Masood added: "On the street, there needs to be more presence to reassure people and also more done to increase awareness about hate crimes."

Bedfordshire Police have been quick to say they will be stamping down on any hate crime very quickly.

Assistant sergeant James Hart, tactical lead for hate crime, said: "Lack of awareness about them being illegal and what constitutes them has led to them being under-reported."

Asst. sgt Hart added: "As recent events worldwide have seen a spike in people being discriminated against simply for who they are, we are issuing a clear message that it won't be tolerated. "Hate crime is terrible and damaging for communities and we all have a responsibility to put an end to it.

"Across Bedfordshire organisations are committed to challenging these attitudes and behaviours by educating the youth and giving our communities the confidence to speak out against such prejudice.

"We are pleased to have strong countywide partnerships that have enabled us to improve the way this appalling crime is reported and to effectively tackle hate crime in every community."

Let's continue to work together to make sure this peace continues.

Starting the party at Luton's 'Covent Garden'

LUTON is set for three weekends of solid entertainment as local bands and dance groups are joined by juggling jesters and magicians to officially launch the town's Cultural Quarter.

There will be a festival vibe in the quarter - dubbed the town's own mini-Covent Garden - as acts take to the stage at the outdoor performance space in Bute Street today, next weekend and the following Saturday.

One of the acts confirmed for the main stage is Melissa Norwood, a talented singer who has gone on to record her first single at the Hat Factory since winning the Luton Mela Talent Quest competition last year when she was just 14.

More entertainment will be provided by the town's Next Generation Youth Theatre, Bedfordshire-based songwriter Leon Bratt, Luton Mela's Asian fusion of dance and music, Tina's School of Dance and Luton Sixth Form brass band over the three weekends.

The celebrations, organised by Luton Borough Council in partnership with Luton BID, London Luton Airport Limited, Love Luton and Luton Culture, will also give visitors the chance to try new cuisines at stalls set up by local restaurants, and watch a number of blockbuster movies (Spectre, the latest Star Wars and more) and live coverage of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships on the outdoor screen.

Belting out blues

THE lead singer of TBelly, Russell Keefe, doesn't believe he discovered the blues - instead, he says 'the blues discovered me'.

The Manchester-born musician has had something of a distinguished career, but is merely looking towards the future with his latest band.

As a member of Les McKeown's Legendary Bay City Rollers, Keefe (as well as bandmates Kevin Magill and Ross Lardner) toured the world and recorded multiple studio and live records, furthering the iconic band's worldwide success.

But it was a batch of new songs that Keefe - compared vocally to Tom Waits and Joe Cocker - believes fuelled this new direction.

TBelly's debut album, 'Dead Men Don't Pray', was released soon after in May 2015.

Russell said: "I started writing the songs in 2013 and this blues style just came out.

"It suited my voice and it suited the type of songs I was writing.

"But there are other elements in the songs and in the band too.

"TBelly certainly has its roots in the blues but it's very much a contemporary sound that we bring."

TBelly are performing at renowned jazz and blues venue The Bear Club in Guildford Street, just a year after their sell-out show at the same venue last summer.

The gig takes place on Saturday (July 9) with doors opening at 7pm, and music starting at 8:30pm.

Tickets cost from £7 and can be purchased online by visiting www.the-bear.club - make sure you get in quick to guarantee a ticket!

Expect to see a fantastic gathering of Military aircraft and visiting military vehicles, including WWI steam engine 'Gigantic' in WW1 Ministry of War livery and a replica 8" Howitzer Gun.

There's an exhibition by the Royal Aeronautical society, who are celebrating 150 years of their work to further the art, science and engineering of aeronautics and encouraging young people to explore these areas.

The flying display will feature three visiting Spitfires and a Hurricane, the much loved B17 'Sally B', and a display by the Buchon, and crowd favourites from The Collection including the Lysander and Hawker Tomtit.

MILITARY PAGEANT SHUTTLEWORTH TODAY

The entertainment isn't just restricted to motors and engines though.

There will also be live music from The Polka Dot Dolls, free tours of the Swiss Garden at 12pm and 3pm, and 'make and paint' workshops.

Gates open to the event at 9am, with the vehicle parade starting at noon and flying display beginning at 2pm (it's expected to end at 5.40pm).

Parking is free, while disabled parking is also available.

There is also a shuttle bus leaving from nearby Biggleswade rail station at 11:30am, which will return back to the station at 6pm. This will cost an additional £9.50 to be paid on the bus, though children again are free.

The restaurant, visitor centre and gift shop are open for the duration of the event and close 30 minutes after the end of the flying display.

It promises to be a great day for the whole family.

PROPERTY TALK >with NIGEL LEWIS

Brimming with history

LADIES' Day at Royal Ascot this year had fashion commentators sniping about some of the weird and wacky headgear on the racetrack.

One race-goer turned up in a hat designed to look like a ram's head, complete with horns, while another wore a 2ft high giant rose-petal bonnet. Actress Anna Friel was even accused of wearing a dead pigeon on her head.

The annual June race meeting is famous for frivolous fashion, and designer David Shilling was one of the first to help women make a spectacle of themselves. His hats hit the headlines when he designed one for his mother Gertrude to wear to Royal Ascot when he was 12. The huge headpiece caused a sensation, got his parents on the front pages and Shilling kept up the tradition for more than 30 years until her death in 1999.

The founding father of modern millinery still creates expensive hats for high society ladies; he once displayed a collection of hats with a price tag of £1million each. But as demand has fallen over the last few decades, Shilling is more likely to be wielding a blowtorch than a needle these days, and lives in Monaco, creating specially commissioned steel sculptures.

He's now decided to sell his five-storey mid-terrace period house in London's Marylebone. With two bedrooms, three bathrooms, formal dining room and courtyard, the master bedroom on the top floor with en-suite shower room has direct access to the roof terrace through a domed skylight. It's on the market for £1.95m.

Yo! Get a space-age flat

YO! Sushi founder Simon Woodroffe designed the Live Aid stage at Wembley Stadium in 1985 after years working as a roadie and stage designer for Rod Stewart, the Moody Blues and Jethro Tull.

The restaurant entrepreneur went onto work in TV before sinking his £200,000 life savings into an idea for conveyor-belt sushi bars in 1997, which took off world-wide.

He's now set his sights on the property market with a concept for high-spec, pre-fab mini-homes as a way to give city dwellers more bang for their buck.

His firm YO! Home has submitted plans for 24 modular apartments aimed at young professionals in the up-and-coming New Islington area of Manchester.

Labelled as the ultimate space-saving apartment, the YO! Home squeezes a bed, kitchen, lounge, dining area and bathroom into a one-bedroom studio flat – but with clever space-saving ideas. Walls slide away with a gentle push, a dining room table appears from a compartment in the floor, and a plush king-size bed lowers from the ceiling. The flat is also full of under-floor storage.

Due to the swift construction process – the self-contained pods will be built off-site and then lifted on top of each other – the flats should go on the market later this year, with prices starting at £150,000.

Bond author's wartime hideout

Jet-setter James Bond isn't often on home turf in Ian Fleming's novels, so readers looking for London settings have to make do with glimpses of St James's (his club), Regent's Park (his 'office') and King's Road (his apartment).

The exception is Moonraker, the third Bond novel, set entirely in England. While chasing Hugo Drax, a megalomaniac would-be dictator, arms manufacturer and card cheat, Bond gambles and drinks in St James's, meets assistant commissioner Vallance at Scotland Yard and prangs his vintage Bentley on the South Circular ring road.

The Moonraker villain lived in Belgravia's Ebury Street where there's a scene in the book – it's also where you'll find a blue plaque to the author who lived at 22b between 1936 and 1945, while working for Naval Intelligence during the war.

The former journalist used his wartime service for the background and detail of Bond's world, although he didn't publish the first book in the series – Casino Royale – until 1952.

Having bought the flat from fascist leader Oswald Mosley, Fleming led an elegant life of dinner parties with friends Noel Coward and Cyril Connolly, had love affairs and amassed a large collection of first editions and surrealist art.

His former home was built in 1830 as a Baptist church but was later divided into flats, where a one-bedroom furnished apartment is up for rent. On the first floor, it's got high ceilings and wood floors in the reception room and open-plan kitchen, and will cost you £595 per week.

Living on the Wilde side

OSCAR Wilde played the family man by reading his sons fairy stories he'd penned himself, but after Lord Alfred 'Bosie' Douglas came to tea, the pair were soon spending their evenings elsewhere.

While his masterpiece, The Importance Of Being Earnest, was still on stage in London, Wilde had Bosie's father, the Marquess of Queensberry prosecuted for libel. However, the trial unearthed evidence that caused Wilde to drop charges and led to his own arrest and trial for gross indecency with men. He was sentenced to two years' hard labour.

Wilde became the most infamous man in Britain. Queensberry bankrupted him, his copyrights and library were sold, and on release from prison he was forced to live abroad and died destitute in Paris, aged 46.

The Irish playwright, novelist, essayist and poet known for his biting wit, flamboyant dress and glittering conversation, moved to Oxford and then Chelsea, London's bohemian quarter in the late 19th century. It was popular with painters and poets, and Wilde's famous neighbours along the road included artists John Singer Sargent and James McNeill Whistler.

Wilde lived in Tite Street with new wife Constance in 1884, wrote many of his best-known works here, but left after his fall from grace in 1895. There's a blue plaque outside to prove it.

A two-bedroom garden flat in his former building with a large 30ft south-west facing terrace has now come on the market for £975,000. It's in need of some TLC but the agent reckons it has huge potential.

Where Middlemarch was penned

WRITER George Eliot's famous quotation: "It's never too late to be what you might have been" – crops up frequently on Twitter and motivational speaking websites.

Her weighty novels were quite a lot longer than 140 characters but she shared some similarities with today's life coaches; Eliot wanted her words to instruct and enlighten, and mused over the moral impact she was having on readers.

Eliot – whose real name was Mary Ann Evans – used a male pen name so that she'd be taken seriously. She didn't want her books labelled light-hearted romances, and also wanted to shield her private life from public scrutiny.

Although seemingly a proper Victorian lady, Eliot lived with the married George Henry Lewes for more than 20 years. After a holiday together in Germany, the novelist found herself labelled a fallen woman and wasn't welcome in any respectable home, while several of her female friends were forbidden by their fathers from calling on her.

The author of Middlemarch and The Mill On The Floss lived in this house in Southfields, south London. Her former Grade II listed Victorian home, with a blue plaque outside, is now up for rent at £1,373 per week.

Originally named Holly Lodge, she wrote many of her books there, while Charles Dickens, Herbert Spencer and Wilkie Collins would pop in for tea.

It's got five bedrooms, four reception rooms, roof terrace, 70ft garden and off-street parking. The lower ground floor has a large open plan kitchen/dining/family room with wood burning stove.

Local Authority Notices

Notice is hereby given that Luton Borough Council in exercise of its powers under Section 59, 64 and 72 of the Antisocial Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014 ("the Act") proposes to make the following Order:-

Luton Borough Council

Public Spaces Protection Order

Number 1 of 2016

1. The Order shall come into operation on the 18th July 2016 and shall have effect for a period of 3 years thereafter, unless extended by further orders under Luton Borough Council's (hereafter 'the Council') statutory powers.
2. The Order relates to a section of Sedgwick Road in Luton as shown on the attached plan.
3. The effect of this Order is to restrict the public right of way by erecting gates shown in bold red lines on the attached plan. This Order authorises the installation of gates and any necessary associated fencing which will enforce the restriction.
4. The gates will allow vehicular access to the service yard of the premises known as 5-9 Sedgwick Road during the normal hours of operation of the premises. Pedestrian access will be maintained at all times to the front of the premises as currently.
5. Responsibility for the supply, erection and maintenance of the gates at the location will lie with the applicant the details of which are to be submitted to the Council for approval as highway authority.
6. The Council is satisfied that the conditions set out in Sections 59, 64 and 72 of the Act have been satisfied and that it is in all the circumstances expedient to make this Order to reduce the detrimental effect or to reduce the risk of crime and anti-social behaviour and its continuance, occurrence or reoccurrence in the Restricted Area which has had a detrimental effect on the quality of life of those in the locality. The effect or likely effect of this is of a persistent or continuing nature such as to make this unreasonable, and justifies the restrictions imposed by this Order.
7. The restriction as stated in paragraph 3 applies to all persons except those who have been designated key holders by the Council
8. A constable or an authorised person may issue a fixed penalty notice to anyone he or she has reason to believe has committed an offence under section 63 or 67 in relation to a public spaces protection order.

   Where a person is issued with a notice under this section in respect of an offence—

   (a) An amount specified under subsection (5)(c) is £100 payable to Luton Borough Council.

   (b) No proceedings may be taken for the offence before the end of the period of 14 days following the date of the notice.

   (c) The person may not be convicted of the offence if the person pays the fixed penalty before the end of that period.
9. If any interested person desires to question the validity of this Order on the grounds that the Council had no power to make it or that any requirement of the Act has not been complied with in relation to this Order, he or she may apply to the High Court within 4 weeks from the date on which this Order is made.

A copy of the Order plan may be obtained by contacting the address below. Written representations about the proposed Order must be sent to vicky.hawkes@luton.gov.uk, Tel. 01582 394189 or in writing to Vicky Hawkes, Community Safety & Anti-Social Behaviour Manager, ASB Solutions Unit, Luton Police Station, Buxton Road, Luton, LU1 1SD to be received before the 18th July 2016. Please note that any representations received may become available for public inspection. The Order can also be seen at www.luton.gov.uk

Thrills for Goodwood fans

BY STEWART SMITH

ONE of the many highlights at the Goodwood Festival of Speed was the appearance of the fantastic Jaguar F-PACE stunt car which put on a dramatic display of dynamic precision and control - on two wheels.

After setting the Guinness World Record for the world's biggest loop-the-loop at its launch last year, the very same record-breaking F-PACE and stunt driver Terry Grant teamed up again and this time Grant piloted Jaguar's first family sports car up the famous Goodwood hill on two wheels.

As if that was not enough, professional freestyle motorbike stunt rider Lee Bowers was on board to add even more jeopardy to proceedings.

Bowers is no stranger to two wheels and swapped his saddle for the luxurious leather interior of Jaguar's first performance crossover.

As the F-PACE two-wheeled up the demanding course, Bowers climbed out of the passenger window to stand on the side of the Jaguar and salute the crowd, before climbing back inside ahead of the finishing line.

Stunt driver Terry said: "When Jaguar gave me the opportunity to reunite with the F-PACE used to break the world's largest loop record, I couldn't say no. Its light, stiff aluminium body and precise controls make it the perfect wheelie vehicle, and it was great to have Lee Bowers along for company – even if he did climb out halfway through our run!"

And there was no shortage of supercars performing at the popular event. Some of the world's most extraordinary sports-racing cars made their presence felt, including Olympic hero Sir Chris Hoy out in the Ligier-Nissan JS P2 which he drove in this year's Le Mans 24 Hour race.

Also making an appearance on the hill run was British ace Steve Soper who was reunited with the BMW-engined McLaren F1 GTR 'Longtail' which he drove at Le Mans in 1997.

Goodwood has long championed Americana at the Festival of Speed and this year was no different. There was appearances from NASCAR stock cars with the legendary Bobby Labonte leading the way in the famous 1972 Dodge Charger.

Indycar racing was also represented, with two-time Formula One World Champion Emerson Fittipaldi making several runs up the famous Goodwood Hill aboard the Penske-Chevrolet PC22 which he raced in 1993.

Renault Kadjar

Take a look inside. . .

BY JON SMITH

IF any car maker knows how to turn out sparkling family models, it's Renault.

Building cars that suit busy mums and dads who must watch the pennies is something ingrained in the French firm's DNA.

Translated into today's idiom this inevitably means a cross-over.

Thanks to Renault's alliance with Nissan, the French giant has produced its own version of the Qashqai, Nissan's most successful car ever.

More exciting visually that the Qashqai, around 60 per cent of the parts are shared, but the Kadjar has its own personality.

Model for model, prices are a tad more reasonable too.

I drove the Signature Nav dCi 130, which is near the top of the range and costs £24,795.

There are less powerful diesel versions and also a 1.2-litre petrol.

With an upmarket, soft-touch cabin, the Kadjar raises the bar in standards set for mid-size SUVs. And there's loads of passenger room for five with ample storage space provided by lockers, door pockets and cubbies.

The opening hatch reveals a 472 litre boot which puts it towards the top of the sector's space race. Fold the rear seats – almost flat – and you have room for 1,478 litres of cargo.

On the road, the 1.6-litre diesel is quiet but punchy with ample high gear power from the 128bhp four cylinder turbo-diesel.

The performance is easily accessible and unrestrained. The manual six-speed gearbox is light and pleasant to use.

Economy is a strong point with near 50mpg within sight for most drivers. The official combined average is 62.8mpg and the CO2 emissions of just 117g/km mean that tax and running costs are kept low.

Road-holding is sharp and satisfying with decent levels of adhesion and not too much roll.

Bumps are generally soaked up well but the occasional pothole or undulation can catch out the suspension.

The newly-redesigned key card is still too easy to mislay despite being coloured white rather than grey and, to my mind, fits into the 'unnecessary technology' category.

With Renault sales on a surge, the likeable Kadjar is sure to reinforce the French firm's return to popularity.

Renault Kadjar Signature Nav dCi 130

- Price: £24,795
- CO2: 117g/km
- Max speed: 118mph
- 0-62mph: 9.9s
- Combined mpg: 62.8
- Insurance group: 18

Exclusive new Zagato from Aston Martin

By: Stewart Smith

ASTON Martin has announced a limited series production of a Vanquish Zagato Coupe, the latest creation from its long-standing partnership with the prestigious Italian design-house Zagato.

The Vanquish Zagato Concept was unveiled at the Concorso d'Eleganza Villa d'Este at Lake Como, Italy in May, and following great customer interest, a strictly limited production run of 99 cars will be built to order at Aston Martin's factory in Gaydon, Warwickshire.

The Vanquish Zagato will be powered by the company's 6.0-litre V12 powertrain which has been uprated to increase its output to 600bhp, capable of delivering a projected 0-60mph time of just 3.5 seconds.

ThAston says that the performance, matched to a unique suspension set up will create a unique GT driving experience specific to the Vanquish Zagato.

The design of the production Vanquish Zagato will be closely related to the concept exhibited at Villa d'Este with proportions that remain quintessentially Aston Martin. The new bodywork is entirely shaped from carbon fibre.

Inside, the Vanquish Zagato features herringbone carbon fibre trim paired with anodized bronze and optional aniline leather to give the facia, vents and rotary dials a rich material quality.

The Zagato is also defined by its 'Z' quilt pattern stitch used on the seat and door sections, as well as the trademark Zagato 'Z' embossed on the headrests and stitched into the centre console.

Customer deliveries will begin in the first quarter of 2017. The price is yet to be announced.

Luxury Ford Kuga Vignale on horizon

By: Stewart Smith

FORD has revealed the production version of the new Ford Kuga Vignale upscale SUV that will expand the Vignale product and customer experience when it goes on sale in Europe later this year.

The Ford Kuga Vignale has been shown in a pearlescent-metallic Vignale Milano Grigio exterior colour with Cashmere leather interior trim as part of an exclusive specification and will be offered with a range of powerful and efficient Ford EcoBoost petrol and TDCi diesel engines – and with intelligent all-wheel drive.

The Ford Kuga Vignale joins the new Ford S-MAX Vignale sports activity vehicle and Ford Edge Vignale large SUV as one of three new Ford Vignale models presented this year, following the introduction of the Ford Mondeo Vignale in 2015.

The Ford Mondeo and S-MAX Vignale are available to order now with the Edge Vignale due to arrive in late 2016.

Ford says each Kuga Vignale model will be hand-finished by craftspeople at the state-of-the-art Vignale Centre at Ford's manufacturing facility in Valencia, Spain.

The latest laser and camera technology supports the trained eye in closely examining every aspect of a Vignale vehicle from bodyshell and panel alignment to paint finish.

The new all-wheel drive system delivers a transition of torque between all four wheels to provide a more secure footing on the road especially in slippery conditions and can adjust torque delivery up to 50/50 between the front and rear wheels in under 20 milliseconds.

On offer will be four engines, petrol and diesel with outputs from 150bhp to 180bhp with manual and automatic transmissions to choose from plus the all-wheel drive model.

MERCEDES GLC COUPE FOR SEPTEMBER DEBUT

By: Stewart Smith

MERCEDES has announced the price of its all new GLC Coupe which will go on sale in the UK in September.

At £40,580 the Coupe is the newest addition to the GLC model range and combines SUV practicality with Coupe-style looks.

The entry level starts with the GLC 220 d which has a 2.1-litre 170bhp diesel engine and delivers a claimed 56.5 mpg on the combined cycle and 131 g/km of CO2.

The GLC 250 d also features a 2.1-litre engine, with a higher output of 204bhp, and achieves 56.5 mpg and 131 g/km. A 9G-TRONIC automatic transmission is standard.

Two model lines are available: Sport and AMG Line, and standard equipment includes Garmin Map Pilot navigation system, Active Park Assist, Artico upholstery in black or beige, keyless start, reversing camera, LED performance head lights, heated front seats, sports suspension and electrically operated tail gate.

Sport models come with a black ash wood interior trim, 18-inch alloy wheels and a diamond grille with black-painted pins.

For £1,495 more, AMG Line adds an AMG sports steering wheel with flat bottom, brushed steel sports pedals, black roof lining and Artico leather in either black or Cranberry Red.

There are numerous optional pieces of kit which can be ordered to customers' requirements, including a Driving Assistance Package (£1,695) which includes Active Blind Spot Assist, Active Lane-keeping Assist, Distronic Plus with Steering Assist, BAS Plus with Crosswind Assist, Pre-safe Plus and Pre-safe Brake with pedestrian detection.

AUDI Q2 FOR GOODWOOD DEBUT

By: Stewart Smith

AUDI will present nine brand new models to the public for the first time in the UK at the Goodwood Festival of Speed including debuts for the new Q2, Audi's most compact SUV and the high-performance R8 V10 Spyder.

Also making their UK public debuts will be the all-new, second-generation Audi S5 Coupe packing a 3.0-litre V6 turbocharged petrol engine with 349bhp and, joining the Audi Sport family, the all-new five-cylinder TT RS Coupe.

Another highlight of the Audi stand will be the new Q7 e-tron quattro, the German brand's largest, most efficient SUV and capable of driving up to 34 miles on electric power alone.

The second-generation A4 Allroad, bridging the gap between the estate and SUV sectors, will be on show for the first time, alongside the 4.0-litre diesel SQ7 SUV.

Paying homage to the R8 GT3 race car that took a total of 323 overall race wins, Audi will also present the new limited edition R8 V10 plus selection 24h. Only 24 of these 610ps monsters will be built, making Audi's most powerful car also one of its most exclusive.

As well as all-new vehicles, Audi's heralded A3 range has been enhanced and will be showcased on its stand in saloon, e-tron and Sportback form.

The Vorsprung durch Technik brand's presence won't only be felt in the exhibition area where the public can get up close to its newest models. It will also star on the hill climb track, where the R8 V10 plus will be taking part in the Michelin Supercar Run on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

NASA SHARP SHOOTER SNAPS A BENTLEY

By: Mike Torpey

BENTLEY has used s high tech system originally developed by NASA to produce a 'gigapixel' image of its new extended wheelbase Mulsanne flagship crossing San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge.

An incredible 4,425 times larger than a typical smartphone image, the extraordinary photograph is made up of approximately 53 billion pixels (or 53,000 megapixels).

It was created by taking 700 individual shots from the same location and 'stitching' them together digitally. The result, if reproduced in standard print format, would be the size of a football field.

Viewers can use an innovative, interactive zoom function to travel from 700 metres out all the way into the Mulsanne's cabin – right down to the 4,500 individual stitches in the embroidered 'Winged B' headrest logo.

Kevin Rose, Bentley's sales and marketing director, said: "Nowhere is Bentley's famed attention to detail better demonstrated than with our new Mulsanne. We wanted to commission this shot to capture both the exquisite detailing of the Mulsanne and the epic scale of our brand's ambitions. We believe the result is truly extraordinary."

The imaging system was created by NASA scientists to enable the Mars rovers to take exploratory panoramic photographs.

JAPFEST GETS READY TO ROCK

By: Mike Torpey

A celebration to mark a million Mazda MX-5s and a display of Boxer-engined Subarus to commemorate 50-years of the brand's famous flat-four engine will be in store for fans of Japanese performance cars at this weekend's Japfest Rock!

The second event in the Japfest series, at Rockingham Motor Speedway in Corby, Northants, promises a day of track and static action plus some unique features.

The gates will be open from Saturday afternoon, with camping and live entertainment including three DJs running from 8pm until midnight.

Day two includes a 40-car display from the Mazda MX-5 Owners Club, featuring 10 from each of the two-seater sports car's generations on show.

Another big draw will be the show's Drift Passenger Rides, which were a hit in 2015, in which visitors can sit alongside a professional drifter for £15 for three laps.

More info from the Japfest website.

Willis raises spirits at Wimbledon

AT the start of this week, things could only get better in this country.

Great Britain had been plunged into political turmoil following the outcome of last week's EU referendum with most of the population left in the dark over what the future holds.

The mood wasn't exactly helped on Monday night by the England football team crashing out of Euro 2016 off the back of one of the most humiliating defeats in their history.

Their improbable 2-1 defeat against Iceland left their supporters feeling a mixture of anger and incredulity (amongst other things) – how could a team with all that talent suddenly look like a bunch of hungover pub players?

We're used to England letting us down at major tournaments by now – this merely followed the sorry performances in World Cups across three different sports.

But the manner of defeat truly was baffling, as the Three Lions became almost a parody of themselves.

Quite rightly, manager Roy Hodgson paid for it with his job meaning, just like in the House of Commons, we're left with an awful mess in terms of a change in leadership.

But thankfully, things did get better. We all love an underdog and the first few days at Wimbledon provided us with one of the best sporting fairytales in a year full of them. You'd probably need to have been a close friend or family member to have known who Marcus Willis is this time last week.

The 25-year-old's tennis career had been in the shadows up until that point – who knew Britain had a number 23 in its rankings, let alone the world having a number 772?

But his progress was the feel-good story of the week, and Lord knows we needed our spirits lifted, as he came through qualifying before defeating Ricardas Berankis (ranked a full 719 places ahead of him) in the first round.

It gave him the chance to face the legendary Roger Federer on Centre Court – the tennis equivalent of a team from the Evo-Stik League heading to Old Trafford in the third round of the FA Cup.

In the end, the gulf in class on the court was unbridgeable but the smiles that match brought to everyone was just what this sports-mad nation needed after a depressing week. Hopefully this isn't the end of the story and Willis can now make a living off the back of playing rather than coaching part-time. He's left us all wanting more after making us feel better.

FOR KEEPS: Glen Rea claims he always wanted to join Luton despite other interest

Rea gets wish as Luton move made permanent

FOOTBALL

LUTON Town announced the signing of Glen Rea on a permanent deal for an undisclosed fee this week following the midfielder's loan spell from Brighton & Hove Albion last season.

Rea became the second player to move from the former club of Hatters manager Nathan Jones this summer following the arrival of England U21 goalkeeper Jonathan Walton on a season-long loan.

The 21-year-old is also the second to make his loan at Kenilworth Road permanent in that time, after former Bradford defender Alan Sheehan did the same.

The move for Rea has been a protracted one after he was offered a new contract at Brighton, with another former club in Southend United announcing they were also keen on his services.

But Rea claims he always wanted a return to Luton, saying: "I couldn't have wanted anything else. I'm just happy to be back. I can't wait to get going again.

"I know all the lads and they are great lads. That was partly the reason I wanted to come back, and obviously the manager as well. I want to work for the gaffer here because I really like him and I think we'll do well this season.

"I had a really good time here last season. We didn't finish where we wanted to finish, but still, my time here was such that I wanted to come back and push for promotion, and try to help the team out this year.

"In my mind there was only one place I was going to come, and that was here."

BLAIR IS BRITISH CHAMPION

JAVELIN thrower Jo Blair stunned three-time Olympian Goldie Sayers by winning the gold medal at the British Athletics Championships in Birmingham last Sunday.

Luton AC's Blair threw a lifetime best 57.44m, while Sayers, who had finished on top for the last 11 years, could only produce 54.98m in response.

ALL TOGETHER: The players of the league

Red Devils make it a double this season

NETBALL

THE Red Devils confirmed their dominance this year by winning the Premier Division of the Luton, Dunstable and District League to go alongside their Cup final victory.

They finished 10 points clear of the Leighton Buzzard Jets in a campaign that saw them score 193 more goals than any other side in the division.

Division One proved to be closer, as Luton White Tornadoes earned promotion by finishing four points ahead of Plate winners Leighton Buzzard Harriers in a season that unfortunately saw Barnfield Fusion withdraw from the league.

Meanwhile in Division Two, Dunstable Diamonds were the team on top with Luton Black Diamonds finishing close behind them.

Town hotshot keen to stay

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

JACK Marriott was not made aware of interest from other clubs, despite enquiries – but has said that he wants to stay at Luton Town.

Boss Nathan Jones revealed that he has rebuffed interest in a number of his young Hatters and, after ending last season as top scorer with 16, it is understood that the striker was one of the stars that drew the attention of higher division outfits.

Jones said: "With the young players we have there were a lot of enquiries about certain members of our first team and we managed to fend those off as well, so that shows, again, the calibre of club we are.

Asked if he'd knew of the clubs trying to prise him away from Kenilworth Road, Marriott said: "There could well have been but I'm not really aware of it. I'm focused on my Luton Town career. I've been wanting to get settled for a while and now that I'm settled I'm more than happy to stay. I don't want to leave."

Marriott's first full Football League season proved such a success that, after signing on a one-year deal last summer, the former Ipswich Academy ace earned an extra year by the end of August and then this summer triggered a further extension, which will keep the 21-year-old at the club until the summer of 2018.

SUCCESS STORY: Jack Marriott finished as top scorer in his first season

"It was an accumulation of goals and starts that meant that my option was taken and I'm delighted that it has been sorted and I can relax," Marriott said, adding: "Something you always want, as a player, is a bit of faith, a bit of trust and hopefully I can keep repaying that."

Cameron McGeehan is another player thought to have turned the heads of a few clubs after the midfielder ran Marriott close in the goalscoring stakes, scoring 14 times.

The former Norwich youth player triggered a contract extension in February to keep him at Luton until the summer of 2018.

To highlight their importance to the club, McGeehan and Marriott were last week chosen to model Town's new Puma kits, complete with SsangYong as club sponsor, alongside new signing Johnny Mullins.

Town also tied down Pelly Ruddock Mpanzu to a new two-year deal and chief executive Gary Sweet echoed the words of his manager about rebuffing interest this summer for key players.

He said: "Without naming names, there are two or three of our first-team squad that have been subject to enquiries, but I think those lads know that they can achieve something here.

"Footballers really don't like moving very much. They want to get settled. As a home, as a base, players generally do settle at Luton very well.

"Now we've got a great coaching team under Nathan and they've got that clear pathway, that clear direction, I think that's even more so.

"What we now need to do is convert that to success."

YOUNG TYROS: Frankie Musonda and Tyreeq Bakinson were among the young players given a debut last season

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town boss Nathan Jones' less-is-more squad policy has been given the seal of approval from chief executive Gary Sweet, who says it can offer hope to the club's youth players.

This time last year former manager John Still signed a bumper crop of 12 new recruits, which inflated his squad to more than 30 professionals.

However, Jones, as soon as he took over in January, made clear his intentions to reduce those numbers and he has already released 11 men in the close season, transfer listing two more and signing five.

The Welshman is aiming for a slimline squad of 20 outfield players this time around and Sweet said: "[It's] not necessarily saying that it works under every manager, but under Nathan it definitely does.

"He wants to have a trimmer squad and he wants everybody involved but everybody to have a certain level of quality. That's exactly the right way to go about it.

"Clearly there are risks there with injuries and suspensions that could expose us, but we're doing this on the back of our under-18s going to the quarter final of the [FA] Youth Cup."

That success and a youth league and cup double saw Jones reward starlets Zane Banton, Frankie Musonda, Tyreeq Bakinson and James Justin with Football League debuts last season.

Sweet added: "If there's ever a chance that we can do this, that we can trim the squad down, knowing that we can delve into those half a dozen development players that we've given contracts to since their success last season, then that's fantastic for us, Nathan and for the pros he's bringing in – because they're being given more play time, but it's also brilliant for the kids.

"They can see a clear pathway through and, more importantly, it's good for the 16 year olds, the 14 year olds and the 12 year olds because they can see that staying with Luton will give them that pathway into the first team."

Last week midfielder Alex Atkinson and keeper Liam Gooch, both 18, were also handed their first pro deals.

Sweet, however, issued a word of caution, saying: "What we can't do is bring 11 players through [to the first team] from the under-18s in one year and expect them to compete for the two or three places that might be available for them. Inevitably there are going to be one or two that drift away or get snatched up.

"But what we need to do is make sure that the ones that we want to take through from that group into the senior group are the ones that we've decided on and give the others a little bit more time.

"But in the meantime, if clubs come in for them then we normally maintain the stance that our youth players aren't for sale. But they're so successful at that age that you can't accommodate all of them, so we do have to talk about how we regenerate that [youth] squad as well, because, actually, the squad that are coming up just behind them are just as good."
